Good Morning, Dr. Fauci,

I am (b) (6) Dr. Jacquelyn Madry-Taylor. I know she would want me to congratulate you on the outstanding information you are providing the nation about the Coronavirus. The success of (b) (6) career was directly related to you allowing her to work in your labs as she began her career in molecular immunology. Your name was mentioned quite frequently during those early years and throughout her work in the federal government. I, (b) (6) and other family members miss her so much and know that she would be on top of the information about this new virus as you present it. Thank you so much for being such a catalyst for her success and we applaud your efforts in identifying the source of the virus and finding a vaccine.

Sincerely,
