Hi Tony,

This is Lou Ignarro from UCLA. You and I shared the stage in the "Shoe" at the Ohio State University a few years ago, where you gave the Graduation Address to the undergraduate seniors. I was on stage with you, to receive an award for my basic biomedical research which resulted in my being awarded the Nobel Prize in Medicine in 1998. I recall the nice conversations we were enjoying with Sanjay Gupta while robing for the event.

Thanks for the truly spectacular job you are doing, regarding the coronavirus pandemic. We Nobel Laureates especially regard your work as the most important during our lifetime. Thank you and God bless.

My best wishes,

Lou Ignarro
